HONDO HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB.

"Communities and homes should strive to have, first, health and recreation and then education," said Miss Nell Foley to nine members of the Hondo Home Demonstration Club, who met Thursday afternoon, Sept. 22, at the home of Mrs. S. E. Rieber. She explained how important it is to have sanitation about our homes, and that we should do all in our power to keep our communities sanitary and healthy, for we cannot expect to have health, when our neighbors are sick and unsanitary.

She said also, a good way to protect the health of our families is to serve the proper kinds of food that our bodies need.

Mrs. Alfred Schweers, president of the club presided, and after the club prayer and pledge was recited, the roll was called and the minutes read and approved.

It was decided that the club have a booth at the LaCoste Community Fair, Sunday, September 25.

Owls and Javelinas Play Scoreless Tie

Game Features Strong Defenses; Lights Prove Satisfactory

The Hondo Owls' initial football game on the newly lighted Barry Field resulted in a scoreless tie. The Owls seemed a bit weak on the offense and blocking was not of the best sort. Reeves of Crystal City had a good deal of drive, and with his blockers, who proved very efficient, he kept the Owls constantly on the jump. Finger was one of the stars for the Hondo team, making a beautiful run of fifteen yards, picking up his feet and leaving Reeves, his pursuer, far behind. Jennings showed up very well with his punting, and G. H. Finger did a nice bit of playing for his first game.

As the game started, Crystal City kicked off to Hondo, the Owls failing to make a first down after an incomplete pass and two off-tackle plays. On the fourth Jennings kicked to Crystal's 35-yard line. Crystal City tried two off-tackle plays, then Reeves took out around left end for 12 yards and a first down for the Javelinas. After three more plays, the Javelinas failing to gain much yardage, Reeves kicked out of bounds on Hondo's 31-yard line. Hondo made 8 yards on their first three downs and on the fourth down failed to make the remaining two yards. On Crystal's next three downs they had advanced to where they only lacked one foot for a first down. This was accomplished by a fake thru center.

On the first down Reeves was set back six yards by Bader. Crystal City failed to make their first down, thus the ball was turned over to the Owls after Reeves had punted across the goal line.

In the second quarter Hondo tried a series of off-tackle plays and came thru with a first down. Hondo's next three plays did not work to perfection and Jennings punted.

In the next series of downs with the Javelinas in possession of the pigskin, an incomplete pass and two futile attempts with off-tackle plays were attempted to no avail. On the fourth down Reeves punted from Crystal City's 20-yard line to Hondo's 32-yard line. The Owls' possession of the ball in this series brought very little yardage. On the fourth down Jennings punted from Hondo's 25-yard line to Crystal City's 15-yard line. Reeves returning it to the 25 yard line. With two fast moving plays Crystal City obtained another first down. With only 1 yard to go in the fourth down, the Javelinas were stopped when they tried to make the remaining yardage thru center. Hondo's next encounter with the ball brought them nothing, Leinweber kicking from the 50-yard line past the goal line on the fourth down. Reeves, totting the pill for Crystal, tried a right end run for 5 yards. Next Hart took the leather around left end for a first down. By this time the Javelinas were speeding up a bit. On the first down Hart passed for another first down. Reeves then took the ball around right end for nine yards when he stumbled. This marked the end of the first half.

At the opening of the second half, Bader kicked off for Hondo, sending the ball soaring to the 10-yard line where it was returned to Crystal City's 30-yard line. With three plays thru the center, Crystal again received another first down. Their further trials were useless and on fourth down Reeves punted to Hondo's 10-yard line, where Charles Finger returned it to the 25-yard line. It was in this next series of downs that Hondo received their only penalty, five yards for off-side. Leinweber quick-kicked on the third down from Hondo's 20-yard line to Crystal City's 25-yard line, the ball being returned to Crystal's 35-yard line. Crystal City made no yardage while in possession of the ball and Reeves kicked to Hondo's 15-yard line, the ball being returned to the 25-yard line by Charles Finger. On Hondo's first down, one of Crystal City's men was off-side and the Javelinas received their only penalty. This made it Hondo's ball on the 30-yard line. First down and 5 yards to go. After two successful plays Hondo received a first down. On the second down Charles Finger made a beautiful run, from the 35-yard line to the 50-yard line, around right end for another first down. After three plays, the ball rested on the Crystal City 42-yard line. A play thru center was attempted but to no avail. With the Javelinas again in possession of the pigskin, Reeves smashed off left tackle for six yards and then thru the center for the first down.

Now entering the fourth quarter with the score remaining a scoreless tie the Javelina plays failed to click in the next series of downs and the ball was kicked to Hondo's 23-yard line. On the fourth down Jennings kicked from Hondo's 26-yard line to Crystal City's 30-yard line. The ball was returned by Hart, but he was nailed by Leinweber, who made a beautiful tackle. Crystal failed to do anything during their four downs

FOOTBALL FANS

Several requests have come in for passes to football games. To some of those who asked for passes, the athletic department is indebted; to others it is not. Two persons not connected with the school proper have been given season passes for this year. The athletic department is in the same position as the Medina County Fair used to be. If everybody who had contributed to the success of the fair had been given a pass, there would have been no gate receipts. We do pass in to football games our own school children. That is more than any other school is doing.

Barry Field's floodlights were initiated Friday night during the Crystal City-Hondo football game. Players and fans, both local and out-of-town, were on their toes for their appearances in the limelight. And from our vantage point in the press box we could—

UNDER THE FLOODLIGHTS

Barry Field's floodlights were initiated Friday night during the Crystal City-Hondo football game. Players and fans, both local and out-of-town, were on their toes for their appearances in the limelight. And from our vantage point in the press box we could—

SEE: Bride-elect MARY EMMA FINGER with fiance L. T. GALE ELIS, deeply interested in the game in spite of the nervousness of the wedding day. . . . MARSHALL KOCH, San Antonio shoe salesman. . . . Yankee pitcher, JOE VANCE, home from the wars, shaking hands with the referees. . . . blonde RUBY BENDELE with blonde VICTOR TONDRE, of Castroville, with Ruby giving the grandstand the once-over. . . . M. I. BROXTON, Asherton school head, greeting old friends. . . . plenty of room in the press box for Owl reporter BURLEIGH SMITH and EDITOR HARDY of Crystal City to push out their chests and brag about their respective teams. . . . Hondo's natty new pep squad uniforms. . . . MRS. WALTER CASE stopping midway a bite into a sandwich during an exciting play. . . . Crystal City's REEVES going through the line. . . . the smart sport clothes worn by MRS. N. C. JOHNSON and FERN ULBRICH and JONELL ROTHES' breathtaking hair. . . . the power behind the respective toes of NONNIE JENNINGS and ELMER JOE LEINWEBER. . . .

And HEAR: HOWARD SHORT'S cowbell; EARL STARNES: "What's a cramp anywhere else is a charley-horse on the football field." . . . a loud voice: "Who'll bet ten dollars?" (We didn't hear any takers). . . . RAY JENNINGS playing Charlie McCarthy to BOB KOLLMAN'S Edgar Bergen. . . . And what did McCarthy-Jennings say to get Bergen-Kolman's goat and make the neighbors laugh? . . . Crystal City's impressive band. . . . the big hand given SCHUEHLE when he was hurt. . . .

And so we present accolades and blue and white pennants to: J. G. BARRY for the favors to the press. . . . to W. H. CASE from all the fans for the football programs. . . . to SUPT. STERLING FLY'S baby for a fine performance as Crystal's pep squad mascot. . . . to MRS. O. H. MILLER, who was so engrossed in the game that she didn't recognize her own daughter, HELEN ANN WHITEHEAD, come all the way from Louisiana, as she sat down beside her. . . . to BEVERLY SCHWEERS, Hondo's baby dumping of a mascot, for her endurance and savoir faire. . . . NORMA JANE BLESS for the noise she got out of that big bass drum. . . . to the OWLS for holding that fellow REEVES and his Javelinas to a scoreless tie. . . . to that BIGGER CROWD of fans that should turn out for tonight's game with T. M. I.

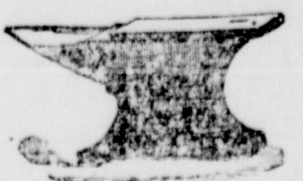

And if I don't break my glasses, I'll be seein' you.

FORTY BILLIONS.

By Clayton Rand

In looking over some old files the other day I found people were much concerned before the World War when the national debt reached an all-time high of one billion dollars.

When the war was over our national debt was $24,000,000,000, and Secretary of the Treasury Andy Mellon gradually got it down to $16,000,000,000.

During peace times, under a spendthrift administration, the national debt now approaches $40,000,000,000.

Economists are wondering whether inflation—printing press money—and repudiation will run their tragic course before a halt is made.

But of one thing we can be certain, hard times will come again just when the government's credit becomes impaired. You can bank on that—it's history.

Copyright

THE "BIGGEST" BUSINESS—TAX COLLECTING.

Tax collecting has become a big business in this country.

According to a recent study, the national tax bill has increased 76 per cent in the past six years. Almost 24 per cent of our total national income is today consumed by branches of government. And, believe it or not, there are more than 175,369 taxing bodies in the United States, with an army of 3,000,000 employees.

Needless to say, this legion of tax gatherers doesn't exist simply to mulct the business or the individual with large means, whose salary or income is in the upper income tax brackets. It exists primarily to tax the little fellow—and to tax him deviously, through hidden, indirect levies assessed against every necessity of life. When you pay a $3 electric bill, you are paying 52 cents in taxes—and the fact that the electric company, instead of you, actually hands the money over to the tax collector doesn't lessen the burden. When you buy a 25-cent tube of toothpaste, you pay six cents in taxes. When you buy a 10-cent loaf of bread you pay 2 1/2 cents in taxes. When you pay a $40 rent bill, you pay $10 in taxes. So it goes down an endless list.

What it all amounts to is this: if you earn $18 a week and own no taxable property, you still pay $112 a year—12 per cent of your hard-earned wages—in taxes. If you are a white-collar worker with a $150 salary, you pay $220 a year in taxes—which means, to put it another way, that you work a month and a half for government.

Get over the delusion that the rich pay the tax bill. There aren't enough rich—even if every dime they earned were confiscated by government. In 1937, 70 per cent of all tax receipts represented hidden taxes. These are the taxes you pay every day of your life—when you eat a meal, ride in your automobile, go to a movie, buy a shirt and a necktie, or do anything else. More and more of them are being levied each year. So never forget that taxation is your own personal problem, on whose reasonable solution your own welfare is vitally dependent.—Industrial News Review.

I regard free speech as of primary importance in protecting the right of people to learn. The freedom of the speaker to speak or the teacher to teach is only incidental to the achievement of the right of free choice on the part of citizens. And when I use the word "teach," I do not mean indoctrinate.—Dr. John W. Studebaker, U. S. Commissioner of Education.

They are running wilder and wider open at Washington, and it looks as if buying votes with the taxpayers money will grow worse so long as the taxpayer has anything left to be taken. Shades of the Boston Tea party!

Lost to sight is soon lost to memory!

Who would be respected must show himself respectable!

The severest test of tolerance is to tolerate intolerance!

County Agent C. M. Merritt is being congratulated on the birth of his first grandchild, the baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sanders of Pearsall, who arrived September 21, 1938, in a Pearsall hospital. The young lady has been named Betty after her paternal grandmother. Mrs. Sanders was formerly Miss Jeanette Merritt of Hondo.

Among the many pleased visitors from Hondo at the LaCoste Community Fair Sunday was A. J. Graff. And Mr. Graff had a special reason for being pleased—his yearling polled Hereford bull took a blue ribbon. Mr. Graff has specialized for several years in Hereford cattle and Duroc-Jersey hogs, and has carried off numerous premiums at various community fairs.

Rudolph Barrientes and nephew, Robert Barrientes, of Hondo were hurt Tuesday afternoon in San Antonio when the truck in which they were riding collided with another car, at San Saba and Buena Vista Streets. The truck was turned over and badly damaged and the two young men were badly shaken up. Rudolph was treated at the Robert B. Green Hospital for a cut on his head and for bruises. Although bruised and suffering from shock, Robert was back at his job of driving the vegetable truck around Hondo Wednesday morning.

Those of us who have not forgotten the hectic days of 1914, when we thought the European war was too far away from us to ever affect us, and then awoke to our mistake in 1917, have been pretty "jittery" for the past few days over the trend of affairs in Europe. Hoping for peace seems to be hoping against hope. The human animal seems to be so constituted that ever so often he becomes a victim of a mass-madness that can be washed out by nothing else save human blood. It looks like another time of cleansing is at hand, and one needs to steel himself against whatever eventualities that may come.

Prof. W. N. Saathoff was here from Castroville last Saturday. From him we learned that Castroville and D'Hanis played their first football game Friday on the former's gridiron. Castroville won by a score of 19 to 12. Mr. John Bailey is the Castroville coach. This is something new in football, as it is played with a six-men squad.

Among those from here who attended the LaCoste Community Fair Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Britsch and son, Horace, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graff, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schmidt and son, Chester, Judge and Mrs. H. E. Haass, Dr. and Mrs. O. B. Taylor and son, Blanton, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Heath, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Jungman, Sheriff and Mrs. C. J. Schuehle and Mr. George Schuehle, Mr. and Mrs. F. X. Vance, Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Schweers, Miss Nell Foley, Mrs. P. Jungman, Miss Anne Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Batot, Miss Etta Batot, Misses Roseina Taylor and Ethelyn Ney, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Brucks and Miss Anna Leah Brucks, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Haass, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Jagge and son, Clinton, and perhaps others whom we failed to see. A fine barbecue and sausage dinner was served at 11:30, following a short parade of decorated cars and commercial vehicles. The school and auditorium held the wide array of farm and home exhibits. A large crowd was in attendance.

Miss Maggie Cameron from here and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Townsend of Austin arrived Saturday night from a 16-days motor trip out West and a visit in Los Angeles, California, and other interesting points. En route to the West Coast they visited the Grand Canyon where they spent the night in order to see the beautiful colors of the sunrise reflected on the equally brilliantly colored canyon walls. They also visited Boulder Dam, going from there to Las Vegas, on to Los Angeles. There Mr. Townsend, who is a member of the bugle and drum corps from Texas, attended the National American Legion Convention and the ladies in his party also took active parts in the affairs in honor of the Legionnaires. When a young lady with the North Carolina delegation failed to arrive, friends from that state enlisted the services of Miss Cameron and she was prevailed upon to help carry the North Carolina banner in the big parade which lasted nine hours through the city streets of Los Angeles to the Coliseum. Miss Cameron wore a very attractive uniform of white with a red satin cape, white helmet and white shoes. Although marching forty blocks or more Miss Cameron greatly enjoyed the exciting event. Among the highlights of the convention activities was the memorial service for the World War dead, held in the Hollywood Bowl. Very touching and impressive to the thousands attending were the showing of a miniature Flander's Field with its rows of white crosses and fields of poppies, and the playing of the hymn, "Nearer My God To Thee" by the combined bugle and drum corps of all the states. Places visited while on the West coast were Hollywood, Beverly Hills, Long Beach and San Pedro. In the latter city they were able to see Uncle Sam's fleet at a great distance out in the Pacific. In a boat trip to Catalina Island they got a closer view of the fleet and also sailed in a glass-bottomed boat to view the marine life. Mr. and Mrs. Townsend returned to Austin Sunday.

BIG SHOW'S LOADED WITH ACE FEATURES

Al G. Barnes-Sells Floto Circus Coming with Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey's Mightiest Attractions

Some thirty well dressed young men arrived in this territory today, and immediately donned overalls and jumpers, grabbed lithograph sticks, tack hammers and paste brushes and set out to do the town in red, black and yellow. They rolled in on the No. 1 railroad Advertising car of the Al G. Barnes and Sells-Floto Combined Circus, which will exhibit in San Antonio, at Roosevelt and Mitchell Streets, Thursday and Friday, October 6th and 7th, with 950 people, five herds of elephants, 837 menagerie animals and hundreds of beautiful horses doing their best to live up to the constellation of stellar features on the Big Show's 1938 roster.

Foremost on the list of super-super features is Gargantua the Great, giant gorilla, the largest ever exhibited and the fiercest. This prodigious primate weighs 450 pounds, stands 5 feet, 6 inches and has an arm spread of 9 feet.

Gargantua is one of the great new attractions of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus, recently added to those of the Barnes and Sells-Floto organization, resulting in the mightiest consolidation of big top features ever assembled.

The engagement extraordinary of Bring 'Em Back Alive Frank Buck, lovers in all lands, has been a sensational success, and his introduction in the magnificent new opening spectacle, is something not soon forgotten. The pageantry depicts Frank Buck returning from the jungle with a caravan of wild animals for the Big Show, the largest ever captured, and his magnificent reception by the Maharajah and his brilliant court. Five companies of Bengal lancers in intricate drills and maneuvers are among the riding participants in the splendid inaugural feature.

Through Buck's appearances under the Barnes-Sells-Floto big top, thru special arrangement with the Ringling-Barnum & Bailey management, and the influx of his savage beasts, the circus has become thoroughly jungle conscious and presents huge groups of performing African lions, Royal Bengal tigers, Soudana, tallest giraffe in captivity, African pygmy elephants, Lotus, world's only trained hippopotamus and countless other outstanding animal features.

Included in the list of big top stars of international eminence are: Terrell Jacobs, the lino king, in a startling demonstration with the world's greatest group of ferocious performing jungle bred black-maned lions; Mabel Stark, the tiger queen, fearlessly performing with savage Royal Bengal man-killers; Reckless Ralph Clark in a sensational two-horse Roman standing jump over a standard size automobile; The Flying Concellos, a company of absolutely fearless performers who fly like winged birds through space, introducing the world-famous triple-somersaulting Antoinette Concello; the marvelous Christiani troupe presenting the ultimate in equestrian thrillers when Lucio performs a double twisting somersault from the back of one galloping horse to another; the world-famous Rieffenach Family, with Clarence Bruce, the incomparable riding comic of the highest class riding act on earth; William Heyer, Europe's foremost horse trainer in the most notable display of high school equestrianism ever witnessed; Naitto Troupe with sensational Nio and Ala Naitto, wire wizards who have astounded two continents; Yom Kam Troupe, Chinese Acrobatic marvels without an equal on the face of the globe; Walkmir Troupe, the zenith in deft and daring high-perch accomplishment; Janet May, world's foremost aerial gymnast in an incredible number of thrilling one-arm planges; Mitzi-Rose Sisters, beautiful bareback ballerinas; Ann Meikel in a most startling exhibition of upside-down ceiling walking; Jack Joyce, offering free running Liberty Horses in amazing evolutions, plus hundreds upon hundreds of the world's foremost arenic stars, 70 world famous clowns cutting capers continuously, gorgeous pageantry, colorful costumes and an aerial ballet of 50 beautiful girls.

Performances will be given at 2 and 8 P. M., the doors opening one hour earlier to allow ample time in which to inspect the world's most comprehensive traveling menagerie.

LaCOSTE, Tex., Sept. 27.—Attendance at the fourth annual Community Fair here on Sunday, Sept. 25, was the largest in the history of the organization, according to A. H. QUIHI NOTES.

And Jacob vowed a vow, If God will be with me, I will keep me in this way, I will give me bread, and raiment, so that I come again to my father's house in peace; then shall the Lord be my God. Gen. 28: 20-21.

Vows may be a burden for life. Usually given in a highly emotional state, later on, after sober reflection, they're often a cumbersome drag, and the soul sighs "Twas strange, 'twas passing strange; 'twas pitiful, 'twas wondrous pitiful," after it ceases to fit into the picture of life and convictions, Jacob's vow has a forbidding, repulsive features. It savors of arrogance and presumption. It lacked humility and veneration. His grandfather, Abraham, once upon a time, held an entirely different attitude. In a lengthy discourse with the Lord, he prefaced his plans rather modestly, "Behold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the Lord, which am but dust and ashes." And he was not even pleading his own interests, but interceded for the welfare of others. And he spoke as a man of a fairly clean record. Jacob has it not. He might have learned from his forefather. His certainly was not an unconditional surrender to God's will. He ties a string to his faith. It looks like a toss-up, a chance-medley, a bargain-making racket for what's in it. It has all the marks and signs of an ultimatum. If you come my way—you're my God; if not—there'll be war and rebellion to the finish between us. Some interpret it that way. Right? Some think that very way in their own heart, accepting God on condition, on the proof that He will work His divine machinery, day and night, in their favor, specializing in their particular interests. They meet Him with distrust and suspicion until He has proven His reliability. His reputation hangs in the balance of their puny scale. They usurp, take by force, the position of umpire, of supreme judge, and would hand down their decision on God's activity in individual care—taking or world management, measured by the standards of their selection, and from their more than limited angle of view. It means the apotheosis, the deification, of man. Let the psalmist answer to such folly: "He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh; the Lord shall have them in derision. Then shall he speak free to them in his wrath" (Ps. 2:4-5). And He is at it quite often. Even now, when the European world trembles in fear and agony in the present impasse. Does the world really need any additional documentary evidence on God's identity, integrity, fairness and business qualifications? Does His "record" not cover many, many centuries, cover His relation to tribes and people, nations and individuals, times of peace and disruption, times of genuine progress and man-made, sin-wrought extinction? Why should doubt prevail? Doubt, the world's worst architect and contractor, with his yards full of building material and yet he never builds; always he finds something forgotten, something to remeasure, something to transplant and replace; always his hands are trembling, always his walls are caving in, sand his roof is full of cracks and holes, his foundation does corrode, who would wish to live in such a abode? Living in a house, at best, not as firm as a bird's nest? Yet the world is full of doubters. Another thing strikes us in that vow of Jacob. Protection, guidance, bread, raiment, home-happiness, all visible, material, transient things, of temporal; relative and shifting value, the land of milk and honey, a good measure, pressed down and shaken together and running over with earthly treasures and conveniences; is that the goal, the purpose of religion? An insurance company for casualties, loss, emergencies, for personal economical and social security? Is that Jacob's notion of religion? The notion of millions? A religion that should create "as paradise, here, here below, with all the stamina to swell and grow; such paradise, indeed, will do, all else of thought and dream is just taboo," soul, sin, salvation, heaven, eternity, and final judgment, all taboo? Of such a religion, let two old pagans judge. Cicero: All I've had and all I've tried, but nothing I've found that gave me peace. Alex. Severus: I've been all (what this world can offer) and nothing has helped me. But does Jacob's vow imply such low-level, materialistic religion? We'll see.

Our news budget is well filled. A few items at random. Mr. F. F. Mummie is a patient at a San Antonio hospital. A rather serious operation has given him temporary relief and prospects for an early return home are quite good. Thanks to the Lord In the same building we found Mrs. Alfred Oefinger, the happy mother of a baby-girl. We can imagine that the father is all smiles. All's well.—In the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cole, at San Antonio, we found Mrs. Ehme Saathoff recovering from a bad fall on the premises, that held her bedfast for a while. Mrs. Luebe Boehle of this community was visiting with her and offered her services as assistant nurse. Things are going well.—A few were traveling. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Saathoff have changed location, now occupying the former Oscar Saathoff farm, and are already well established.—Mr. John Schulte, of San Antonio, has laid aside his military uniform for the time being and stays with relatives around here on a civilian basis. It allows a little more flexibility and elbow room.—Mr. John Lindeburg and his daughter, Mrs. F. Hartmann, have ventured out on a belated vacation tour. Their aim was Corpus Christi, to see some water again, after this long spell of drought around here. They will enjoy it.

The committee on the Community Social has set the date for this event on October the 22nd. Here is our advance invitation. Plenty to see and hear and eat. Details soon.

The Ladies' Aid will meet in special session next Sunday after the morning service. Important. Try to be there. Their next regular meeting is on October the 6th. Also very important. Come, if any way possible.

Substituting for the local pastor, the Rev. P. Czerkus, we united in holy wedlock Mr. Alford Weber, son of Mr. and the late Mrs. Emil Weber, of Hondo, and Miss Adeline Krenmueller, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Krenmueller of Dunlay. The witnesses were Mr. Walter Krenmueller, Miss Irene Neuman, Mr. Arnold Musmann and Miss Louise Musmann. They will make their home at Hondo in the same house where the wedding took place. May the Lord be their Guide and their Strength. Their many kin and friends will join me in these sincere wishes.

Announcements for October the 2nd: German service at 10; Sunday school and Bible class at 9; English service at 8 P. M. Again we invite you and your family and friends. The Lord looks for you.

Mr. and Mrs. Belschner ask us to thank their friends one and all for their kind consideration and to bid all whom they could not see a cordial good-bye and assure them that they take with them a wealth of happy memories of their stay in Hondo.

BILLIES FOR SALE.

The proof of the fisherman's stories are in the fish he brings home. Knowing this to be a fact, Mr. Will James, proprietor of Hondo's Green Tag Store, brought back with him from Aransas Pass the first of the week convincing proof of his prowess with the hook and line. Now if there is anything about fish this editor likes it is MORE fish, and the evidence he left with us was more than enough to be convincing. Not being authorities on the varieties of salt-water fish, the editor's family could not determine the variety until it came to the table nicely baked when all were unanimous that it was GOOD fish. Mr. James has our thanks for a very greatly enjoyed treat.

A. G. Walker, the ice manufacturer, was a caller yesterday and moved forward the dates to his own paper and that of his son, Earl Walker, of Hebbronville.

WIEMERS-BOHMFALK NUPTIALS.

The New Fountain Methodist Church was the scene of a simple but impressive wedding at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, September 24, 1938, when Miss Mae Belle Bohmfalk became the bride of Mr. Clinton Wiemers, with Rev. Robert Paine, the pastor, officiating. The altar, banked with fern and greenery and lighted with white tapers formed the setting for the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Milton Bohmfalk. Her only attendant was Miss Erna Mae Stuessy of Houston, maid of honor. The bridegroom was assisted by Mr. Harry Schweers.

The bride wore a becoming wine-colored wool suit with grey fur trim and black accessories. Her corsage was of Talisman roses. Miss Stuessy's flock was stone blue, worn with wine accessories, and golden dahlias formed her corsage. The men were attired in oxford grey suits with boutonnières of white carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Wiemers left for a short honeymoon trip to Corpus Christi. They will make their home in New Fountain where they are building a new residence.

The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. George Rolf Bohmfalk, and is a graduate of Hondo High School, in 1935. She attended Draughan's Business College in San Antonio and was employed in Houston for a while. For the past summer she has been working in Hondo National Bank. The bridegroom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Wiemers and is a prosperous young farmer of the New Fountain community. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wiemers have a host of friends who wish them a long and happy married life.

WEBER-KRENMUELLER.

Miss Adeline Krenmueller, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krenmueller of Dunlay, and Alford Weber, son of Mr. Emil Weber, were united in marriage at six o'clock Saturday evening, September 24, 1938, at the home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Krenmueller, in Hondo. Rev. C. Weeber, pastor of Quilhi Lutheran Church, performed the ceremony in the presence of members of the family and a few close friends.

The vows were taken before an improvised altar of ferns and late summer flowers banking the fireplace. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Musmann, Miss Irene Neuman, and Walter Krenmueller.

The bride was attractive in a black and white ensemble with which she wore black accessories.

Following the ceremony, a supper was served to the bridal party and the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Weber left on a brief bridal trip after which they will reside in an apartment in the Rudolph Krenmueller home.

Prior to her marriage the bride was employed at the Green Tag Store in Hondo. The bridegroom is a mechanic at Alfred Breiten's Garage.

This paper joins the many friends of the couple in extending best wishes for the future.

MARRIED.

Mr. Andrew W. Giesick of Hondo and Miss Louella Schweers of Quilhi were married at Hackberry Street Methodist church in San Antonio on Tuesday, September 27, 1938, the pastor of the church officiating.

After a short honeymoon at points east the young couple will be at home in Hondo, where Mr. Giesick is employed at Preston C. Gaines' garage.

This paper joins their friends in congratulations and hearty good wishes for a happy wedded life.

SECOND EL PASO ROAD GETS PAVING.

Improvement of United States Highway 90 between San Antonio and Uvalde is well underway and with completion of paving from Marfa to Van Horn, San Antonio will be provided with a second all-paved highway to El Paso. D. R. Thomas, manager of the highway and public works department of the Chamber of Commerce, reported on a return Wednesday from a trip over the United States Highway 90.

Preliminary work in preparation for laying paving from the San Antonio city limits to a point five miles west is nearing completion and officials of Bexar County are acquiring right-of-way for an additional mile. The surface of an additional 10-mile stretch in Bexar County has been leveled and a non-skid seal coat laid, he said. Approaches to the over-pass near Dunlay and an old stretch of road-way between D'Haris and Sabinal will be improved in similar manner, he said. The latter stretch is to be relocated south of the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks under a federal grade separation program.

Sharp curves in Bexar and Medina counties are being eliminated improving sight distances and removing traffic hazards. From Uvalde to Marfa U. S. Highway 90 is in good condition, he reported. The Chamber of Commerce now is seeking construction of a modern bridge at Castroville and straightening of the highway through that town, he said.—San Antonio Express.

LAND COMPANY CONSIDERS PLANS FOR REBUILDING BURNED CLUB HOUSE

It is understood that the Medina Irrigated Farms, Inc., will rebuild the club house at Natalia, destroyed by fire last week, with a Spanish type office building with several cottages in the rear after the manner of approved tourist courts. The recreation hall, now used for an office, will be divided up to include a lobby with large fireplace, a dining room and a kitchen.

Tschirhart-Echtle

A beautiful wedding was solemnized in St. Mary's Church Tuesday, September 20, 1938, when Miss Rose Mary Echtle, youngest daughter of Mr. Paul Echtle, became the happy bride of Mr. Hilmer W. Tschirhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Tschirhart. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial high mass by Rev. Jos. Schweller.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Mrs. Julius Ahr, in the following order: Miss Florence Tschirhart and Andrew Kehler, Miss Doris Zimmerman and Alphonse Scherer, and Miss Marie Echtle, maid of honor. The bride then entered on the arm of her brother, Ernest Echtle. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Emil Tschirhart.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white satin and lace. Her cap effect veil of bridal illusion and lace was held to her head by a coronet of seed pearls and fastened at the sides with orange blossoms and lilies of the valley. She carried a shower bouquet of calla lilies and fern. The maid of honor and bridesmaids were gowned alike in pastel colors of taffeta. They carried arm bouquets of orchid asters and fern. The bridegroom and his attendants wore dark suits.

Following the ceremony an all-day reception was held at the home of the bride's father. Late in the evening, the couple left on a trip to Carlsbad Cavern and other points. The bride wore a black alpaca crepe dress with black accessories. Upon their return they will be at home on the Castroville Road where the groom is engaged in farming.

MY RETREAT.

When wearied by toil in the life giving soil

I seek a spot so restful and cool.

'Tis an old rustic seat in a leafy retreat

On the brink of a clear, limped pool.

There, safe from all harms, 'neath the sheltering arms

Of the friendly, old gnarled apple tree,

I yield to the spell, whilst I hearken right well

To the fairy-tales whispered to me.

Such gay butterflies—flitting down from the skies

On sheer, lovely gossamer wings,

Caressing my flowers, through bright, sunny hours

Whilst carols the mocking-bird sings.

I gaze with delight at the fishes so bright

In the water so sparkingly clear,

I revel in peace—a restful surcease

From my toils—in this haven so dear.

So come with me there, my joy I will share

In these gay, bright, beautiful things,

We'll forget all our sorrows in plans for tomorrows

The while the mocking-bird sings.

"MAN FROM MUSIC MOUNTAIN"—is showing currently. Gene Autry hits the screen again in the kind of singing, shooting Western that has made him a favorite. Smiley Burnette is Gene's buddy and Carol Hughes is the romantic interest. Autry swings into action when unscrupulous promoters subdivide a ghost town, in the heart of the desert, on the false claim that the Boulder Dam power line will run through it.

"SHOPWORN ANGEL"—Sunday and Monday, has an impressive cast including Margaret Sullivan, James Stewart, Walter Pidgeon, Hattie McDaniel, Nat Pendleton, Sam Levene and Alan Curtis. Miss Sullivan portrays the role of a chorus girl who gives life and meaning to a Texan doughboy's faith.

"THREE LOVES HAS NANCY"—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, is a delightful romantic farce, including such scintillating stars as Robert Montgomery, Janet Gaynor, and Franchot Tone. The cast also has Claire Todd, Cora Witherspoon, Reginald Owen and Grady Sutton. A Southern belle involves two New York playboys in her romantic troubles, and complications come thick and fast until she straightens things out by marrying one of them.

Uvalde Leader News. SELLS BUCKS

Joe Richard Jr. of North Uvalde has sold 16 Rambouillet bucks the past week to various parties at "satisfactory prices". Five went to Nollie Caddel of ConCan, two to M. E. Nester of D'Hanis, two to Geo. Harper of Utopia, and one to Ples Jones of Rio Frio.

Capt. Louis Burrell of Castroville was one of the visitors to Uvalde on the occasion of G. H. Johnson's funeral. Capt. Burrell has lived the 72 years of his life in the Castroville community and has been engaged in the ranching business. He has always taken a great interest in state politics and is known throughout the state. He is a great booster for the Leader-News and keeps his subscription paid several years in advance. He says he greatly enjoys reading the stories of the old timers in this section, most of whom he knows personally and also appreciates the news regarding stockmen and their trading.

Robert Keller of Los Angeles passed through Uvalde last week. He had been to attend the funeral of his father, Joseph Keller, pioneer merchant of LaCoste.

Misses Louise Mauldin and Theresa Conrad were in Uvalde Tuesday from Hondo.

W. H. Hearne, better known to his old time friends as "Sid", was in Uvalde Saturday. Some time ago he bought a place near Leakey and is making that his home. Thirty-six years ago he left Uvalde County and since that time has been ranching in Webb County until he sold his holdings. Sid had a place on th Dry Frio in the earlier days and gained a reputation as a hunter. He kept Uvalde pretty well supplied with venison and on occasion with bear meat. He said he was very much surprised to see the great changes that had taken place in this section and especially greatly surprised at the improvements made in the Leader-News office to what it used to be as he remembered the paper when it was printed on an old Washington hand press. Sid's old friends are sincerely glad to welcome him back to this section.

Many Attend Johnson Rites

Funeral services were held last Thursday afternoon for G. H. Johnson, veteran officer, and a life-long resident of Uvalde County, who died suddenly at Devine two days previously. The services were conducted by Rev. E. A. Osborne, minister for the High Street Christian Church.

Many persons from out of town attended the services, including a number of officials of the Texas Liquor Control Board, with which organization Johnson had been connected for several years. The profusion of floral offerings attested to the esteem in which he was held as a friend and an officer.

Among the out-of-town relatives and friends at the services were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Gus Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph B. Cruz, B. C. Winfield, Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Ziegler, John M. MY FIELD

Mine cannot be a field so large,
But bound by skies as all fields are,
The not so wide from marge to marge

It has the sun—the moon—the stars.

A single field this tract of mine,
'Tis filled with hate, with love and peace.

But in this field I'm sure I'll find,
Some ways, my kindness to release.

This field of mine, it is well sown
With happy, silent solitude

It has no place for things unknown
To the muse of poetic aptitude.

SCANDALOUS

Beth-Allen served cheer and ruddy red wine
At an inn by a long, dim, winding trail
Ever did comfort, order and peace benign
Find place under his sign of "Golden Ale".

The inn lay lone along a desert way
Along a road one traveled once—not twice

Surely mad were they who in work or play

One journey did not forever suffice.

I traveled that trail once long ago,
Before life was old to the travel game;

I minded not a thousand jolts or so
Charging the measure to fortune's blame.

Beth-Allen: He Hebe to a third scorched lot

Blown on the wings of a Wanderer's gale

The cup that he bore left a stinging blot

On memory, scarred on a lonely trail.

'Tis said Beth-Allen lies in a long last sleep

Near the inn, down by the snaky old trail,

He drank a nightcap, drank it full and deep,

Then started his search for the rainbow's "kale".

But I know true tale of that night at the inn

And Satan, himself, was the one sole guest;

Beth-Allen cleaned the devil of all save sin

Then, wearied greatly, he stumbled to rest.

On a lonely trail in the great beyond
Where the journey trends to a ghostly prize

Beth-Allen, perhaps, is the chief vagabond

At an Inn Of Shadows within the skies.

If the game goes on and ghostly throats are burned

Around tables of air in this shadow built in

Then Satan, at least, has beforehand learned

To avoid Beth-Allen's mixture of liquid sin.

ABOUT OLD AGE ASSISTANCE.

sounder if we allow an assistance, (as a right), to all when they reach a certain age, that when people have served society so long they are entitled to an assurity. The very life of every person stands pledged to the protection of our common heritage and if in old age a reward is a sound governmental principle it belongs to all alike. The better serving of society as a whole is the principle which justifies taxing parties who have no children in order to educate the children of others. We do not ask whether the parents are able to pay for the education of the children. And what a political mess our schools would be in if we had an army of investigators checking up on the financial standing of parents, brothers, sisters, uncles, aunts, etc., of children of scholastic age before any scholastic money could be allowed and after allowance of same some might get $25.00 and others but $5.00! It is just as consistent to object to educating rich children as it is to object to assisting wealthy old people—neither is justified unless it confers a benefit upon our social order as a whole. Let all who wish to accept assistance meet on a common ground like the rich and poor children in our public schools. Such a policy would show some fairness to the successful ones who must foot most of the bills and would not be humiliating to those who have little or nothing.

The practical man will say can we afford to assist all and where are we going to get the money? The questions are highly pertinent. As to the first question: the answer is in the affirmative. The entire resources of the state are pledged. The state has vast wealth and many ways to raise money. The amendment was adopted by a tremendous vote. Its liberalization has just been endorsed by an unprecedented election. The people have pledged themselves to raise the money. There are 278,000 eligibles. For these to get the full amount it would take approximately $50,000,000.00 a year. How such an amount can best be collected is not a part of this article, but will be discussed later. It was the consensus of opinion among the leading candidates for governor that from ten to fifteen millions of dollars can be saved through necessary economies. My personal opinion is 15 millions is a conservative estimate if economy is tackled determinedly and intelligently. It is possible to have better government than we have now and at the same time save one-third the amount necessary to give maximum assistance to all. This will get us to first base. There can be a big saving by abolishing the present political set up and using competent 'would-be' pensioners in the administration of the law. It would not only take such individuals off the rolls (being state supported they would not ask for old age assistance), but would in many instances take entire families off the general relief rolls. There are doubtless thousands who will never ask for assistance.

When the average politician does not want to do a thing he will bewail the expense and shed crocodile tears for over-burdened tax payers. But if he wishes to do a certain thing the expense never stands in his way. This statement is proven by the fact we have added more than $100,000,000.00 to the state's annual expenses within the last few years and have not given the state any better government. The legislature was for economy when it came to the amount the old people were to get but spent with recklessness when it came to the political set up for the administration of the law. I have never yet heard a fellow who opposed the liberalization of old age assistance offer any criticism of the expensive administrative bureau which makes heavy inroads on the money raised for the old people. This bureau is so rank it smells to heaven, yet it is Okey with the deliberizers who are worrying about where the money is going to come from.

Only a few years ago almost two-thirds of the legislature were in favor of borrowing and spending $200,000,000.00 on our roads—an expenditure which would have lasted but a few years. When our scholastic population was not one-third what it is today we had from $3.00 to $4.00 apportionment. Now we have $22.00 per pupil besides millions as an aid fund. Our larger cities think nothing of spending millions on projects of various kinds. And the legislature for several years have been raising salaries to the tune of millions. They are constantly proposing new bureaus and never provide for salaries under $10,000.00 per year.

I do not mean to argue for extravagant public expenditures but do mean that we cry tax burdens only when the proposed expenditures do not meet with our approval. I do mean to say the party who says we cannot raise the money and never kicks at present extravagance does not want to raise it in the first place.

I close by repeating that if old age assistance is not a sound public policy instead of mere charity then the state and nation should lay off it. If it is a sound policy it should be met, even if it forces economies in other lines.

THE LOW DOWN from HICKORY GROVE

The latest thing just off the grid-dle—red-hot—it is a U. S. broadcasting system. So I reckon the mails, they must be too slow.

And the Govt. with a radio, it could clamp down quick on a farmer in Illinois or some place, if he is objecting to some person with a slide-rule telling him just where and how to plant a coupla hills of corn. They could have a farmer in jail, via radio, lots quicker than by R. F. D.

And if they send out word on Monday to plant more, because the weather is dry, and then it rains and they want the farmer to plant less, you see how hard it is to get something done—by mail.

But the Govt., it is getting its foot into everybody's door—and it is not just the farmer they are after.

If they can tell a farmer when to wean a calf, what is to keep 'em from telling me when to change my underwear—if I maybe happen to have some, sometime.

So my neighbor he says, Jo, I am glad to see you are half-way beginning to wake up.

Yours, with the low down,
JO SERRA.

Present-Day Standards

The teacher had just finished telling the story of the Pilgrims to a group of small children.

"Now, Gertrude," began the teacher, "when the Pilgrims had been here a year and had gathered in their good crops, what did they do?"

"I bought a car," replied Gertrude promptly.—The Churchman.

L. McC. "Bill" Jones

Head Football Coach

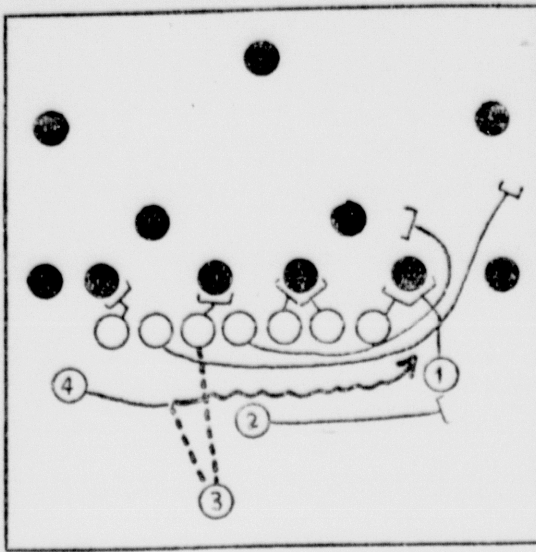

This is the second in a series of six outstanding diagram plays by leading college coaches from Grantland Rice's new Cities Service Football Guide.

WE have used the above play with success off the double wing formation. It fits in very well with a forward passing offense.

The left defensive end who normally does the job of rushing the pass is blocked out by the No. 2 back. The No. 3 back fakes a long pass and then flips it to the No. 4 back who has come around his own line of scrimmage. He is led by the right guard who takes the line backer and by the left guard who takes the wing back.

The right end and the No. 1 back block the tackle in. The other line-men have line checking assignments as indicated.

Pep Squads Perform at First Football Game

Pep Squads From Both Towns Entertain Spectators

From The Owl—

Performing for the first time this season and displaying new uniforms, the Hondo pep squad and drum corps maneuvered from the "grandstand" between halves at the Javelina-Owl football game last Friday night on Barry Field.

The Crystal City band and pep squad performed first. Marching four abreast, they were lead to the center of the field where they formed. After completing this they marched to the end of the field, turned and marched back the entire length of the field while the band played the Crystal City school song.

Following this, the Hondo pep squad and drum corps, also four abreast, marched onto the field. The drum corps turned on the twenty yard line and then marched to the center of the field where it formed a background for the pep squad while it executed its drill. First a large "C" for Crystal City was formed. With the three leaders and mascot, Beverly Schweers, in the center of the "C" a yell for Crystal City was given. Then the "C" was closed so as to form an "O" for Owls. After another yell, this time for the Hondo Owls, both the drum corps and the pep squad left the field.

A small set of bleachers were erected on the east side of the field for the pep squads and school children. Crepe paper of the two schools' colors marked off the space reserved for the two pep squads. Other spectators sat in the major bleachers on the west side of the field.

This game was the first to be played under the new field lights. These lights are in clusters of five and send forth a great amount of light. The whole field has been improved.

The pep squad and drum corps are now practicing on drills to be executed at the T. M. I. game to be played on Barry Field next Friday night. Sandwiches, candy, chewing gum, and cold drinks will be sold by the pep squad at this and every home game. The pep squad requests you to buy your candy, chewing gum, etc., from them at the game. Money taken in will be used for the annual banquet given at the end of the season honoring the football boys.

At a lecture, the speaker orated fervently: "He drove straight to his goal. He looked neither to the right nor to the left, but pressed forward, moved by a definite purpose. Neither friends nor foe could delay him, nor turn him from his course. All who crossed his path did so at their own peril. What would you call such a man?"
